

Etiquette workshop at Vaux le Vicomte's Castle*

François Vatel, Nicolas Fouquet's famous butler, was the great organizer of exceptional feasts at Vaux le Vicomte.

He knew how to stage the French gastronomy by glorifying the art of the table.

Know how to receive is an art; there are a few rules to know to be a perfect host: table seating plan, services (sittings), art of the table, dress code... Successful evenings will have no more secrets for you.

Today, the De Vogüé family, owner of the castle and stemming from the aristocracy, pursues these traditions.
